Six suggestions for improved procedures in the record keeping and accounting practices of the Bermudian Springs Joint School District are included in the report of the audit of the joint district's bookes by the state auditor general's office.

In the reports of the audits of the six individual school districts which make up the joint district. a total of 30 corrections are recommended. The numbers in each district range from 11 in Latimore Twp. to two in the York Springs borough district.

Among facts turned up 'yy the state audit was the discoverery that in Conewago Independent, Huntington and Reading Twps. no account books were kept by the local boards and in the case of East Berlin state appropriation was being asked on a "closed" school which the state found housing a school at the time of the

Bragg took six practice pole to be flat desert course. vaults and twice cleared 14 feet. Asked about his ailing legs,

Bragg said: "No comment." The Olympic champion has said he will retire for good after the indoor season.

In the Millrose Games in Madison Square Garden last week, Bragg was defeated by Florida who will be in the Inquirer Games, in a big surprise. Wadsworth cleared 15 feet, 4 inches, a career high, while Bragg finished second with 15 feet.

In practice at Convention Hall Wednesday, Bragg, who says his legs are knotted with varicose veins, quit after his second 14-6 vault. He said he didn't want "to push it woo much."

Meanwhile, it was disclosed that Ed Moran, the defending 1,000champion; won't be able to make it this year. The Penn State graduate student, who has a bad back, has been advised by doctors to rest for "a week or two."

"It is possible to pass the tests are fit or unfit, but only how you stand in comparison with the national average."

Experts list several reasons why American youth fares so badly in comparison with other youngsters in physical fitness.

RIDE, DO NOT WALK

For one, life today does not require the physical activity it did only a comparatively few years ago. This is more true in the United States than in any other

American youngsters ride in stead of walking. They have few home chores that require physical

More and more, they are turning to spectator sports. Where boys used to play sandlot boseball or football, they now curl up before a television set and watch the professionals.

Interscholastic athletics, Little Leagues, Pee Wee Hockey and Biddy Basketball aren't the answer, many experts contend. Only a small percentage of the youngsters are good enough to play in What's to be done?

The answer, say officials of the AAHPER, must be found in wellbalanced school physical education programs, with the emphasis on the individual student rather than the school teams.

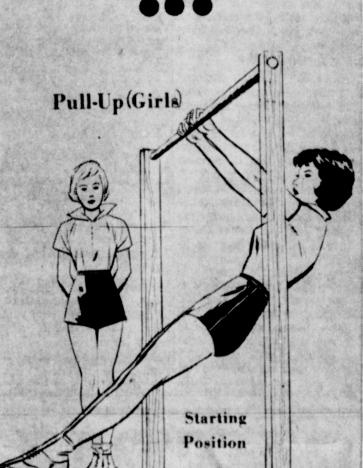

PICTURE ISN'T BAD

And, the officials add, the pic ture isn't all bad. "Cities like Cincinnati; Flint,

TV WILL FOCUS

By CYNTHIA LOWRY AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)-The next big predictable story on which television will focus its attention will be the trial of Adolf Eichmann. The man who was in charge of Nazi Germany's liquidation of Jews is scheduled to be tried in Israel in mid-March.

So far, the job of covering the trial looms as an expensive headache. At the moment, it looks as if the three American networks have no choice to accept pool coverage-each network to receive the same taped pictures of the trial each day-and each will pay about $50,000 to get them.

But this is a lot less than the original estimates made by an independent company wih an Israeli government contract to provide exclusive TV coverage for all who want it. The original asking price was $160,000 from each network.

NOT ONLY PROBLEM

But cost isn't the only problem. The TV networks, like any other communications medium, dislikes the idea of having news fed to them, particularly by an agency allied with a government.

The trial is expected to last 17 weeks, and the way things stand now, the three American networks Raymond Massey, the number announced. So be prepared. At least one member of every family should have a working knowledge of first aid. There are books on the subject and the American Red Cross gives classes where such information and training can be acquired. We recommend that you, or someone in your household, acquire the know-how. Another worthy recommendation is to maintain a supply of firstaid medications on hand at all times-antiseptic. gauze bandages, adhesive tape, alcohol, soothing creams, etc. The cost is small and we'll be glad to assist you in your selection.
